

Animating with DeadlyComics

By Miles T.F. Baxxter

DeadlyComics animated the NordicFuzzCon 2017 opening video. He is an active online animator and often draws himself as a raccoon wearing a tie. Be sure to check out his YouTube account! youtube.com/user/deadlycomics1/

What was it like working on the NordicFuzzCon video project?

Working with NordicFuzzCon was a really great experience! They were clear with what they wanted the project to be, but also gave me plenty of room to make my own decisions. The size of the cast was definitely something new for me... I don't think I've ever done a project with so many characters, but it was a welcome challenge!

What's your favourite part about animating?

There's nothing like the feeling animating something, playing it back, and having it feel right.

What's your least favourite part?

Cleanup and colouring take way too long!

Do you have any advice for aspiring animators?

Stop aspiring and start doing it! If you got a computer or even just some paper and pencil, pull up some tutorials and start learning the basics! There's no shortage of help you can get online, so take advantage of it!

Achievement Hunting at NFC

By Nostradamus

NordicFuzzCon's own Blip system does once again let you find achievements during the convention. A lot of the achievements are listed on the NordicFuzzCon's website under My Account->Blip. There you can see all "visible"* achievements - the ones you have taken, the ones you have not yet achieved; how many points they are worth and some statistics along with a leaderboard. Participating is simple: find an achievement that you think looks fun - and solve it! This is done either by "blipping" the blip stations or by presenting the finished task to the Blip Master who is located outside the Drawing Corner (Thursday-Saturday 14-17 and 19-22). Last chance to capture an achievement and hand it to the blip master is Saturday evening.

* There are also several hidden achievements that are not listed on the website/mobile app except as, e.g: Hidden Achievement #1. These can be more rewarding but are also harder to find.

 Blips that deal with Dinner, Eat Sweden, Ice Cream, Dying Dog Dinner, FuzzBus etc are NOT part of the blip game and will deduct a token from your account if blipped. So please DO NOT blip these to try for achievements.
